Housing – Building and Developments

Westshield's residential division has expertise in all aspects of residential construction, from city centre apartments through to bespoke multi-million-pound properties.

We design, plan and deliver award-winning homes that incorporate an imaginative approach to land acquisition and location. We incorporate traditional construction methods with new and innovative techniques and can provide up to date energy efficient lifestyle technologies to suit our client's individual needs.

We are experienced at working with developers, architects, local authorities and private clients to deliver projects to the most exacting standards.

Our offering includes:

- Initial consultation
- Geotechnical investigation
- Desktop topographical and structural surveys
- Specification advice
- Budget estimating, progress and programming information
- Local authority planning applications
- Liaison with utility companies
- Managing change issues
- Innovative build and installation processes

As part of Westshield's full-service offering, our residential division works alongside our sister divisions to offer a complete development package to our clients. Working with our civil engineering, water and wastewater and reinforced concrete divisions, we can deliver on every aspect of a residential development.
